1. In early April 1954, the 1954 production plan for the Warnow Shipyard in Warnemuende was altered as follows:
Work on the construction of type IV ships would not be started earlier than 1 July 1954, because the designs had to be changed. Ore-carriers and colliers would not be built at all in 1954 because entirely new designs had to be prepared. The Soviets had demanded that the speed of these vessels be increased 10 to 14 knots. The ships were dropped from the list of ships to be built. Two of the river passenger vessels, meanwhile, were taken over by the Soviets. The new target for the delivery of ships [redacted] was [illegible] at 25X1 December 1954.

2. The repair program underwent the following alterations:
Soviet passenger ship [illegible], which was scheduled to undergo overhaul at the Warnow Shipyard, was ordered to be repaired in [redacted] 25X1
